Two Men Arrested For Grand Larceny

Two men were arrested early Thursday morning for burglary of a Belle Isle home, and booked on charges of grand larceny, possession of narcotics and carrying a concealed weapon.

Sheriff's deputy Terry Homes answered a call at 12:30 a.m. Thursday from the owner of a residence on Maul Drive in Belle Isle subdivision, who said when he and his wife returned to their home shortly before midnight they found the house had been broken into. A 12-gauge shotgun and a wallet containing credit cards and $220 in cash were stolen. Burglars had apparently been about to steal the TV set when they were interrupted by the residents' return.

Homes found two men in a green Pontiac still in the neighborhood and placed them under legal action.

Seven Wolfe St. Homes Burglarized

Sheriff's deputies are investigating seven cases of breaking and entering and theft from residences all situated on Wolfe St., off Blue Meadow Road.

The thefts were reported on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, and deputies Robert Carley Nease and Herb Davis are investigating evidence gathered at the residences. According to Tartavoule, a number of items such as television sets, stereos, radios, clocks and pictures were taken.

Tartavoule also issued a warning to area residents to report to police any persons attempting to sell items such as those stolen, without proper identification or proof of purchase.

A $100 reward is being offered

Stennis Field Offers Passenger Flights

Heads up!
The airplane you're looking at may be SCAT Flight Stennis

Field.

South Central Air Transport of Natchez, Miss., began its six flights daily five days a week, with three flights on Saturday, on Oct. 9, with a landing to pick up freight for New Orleans

week were successful

arrangements made to have the consigned by Ingram Industries of Kiln.

Known in aviation circles as a feeder airline' SCAT has been flying over Hancock County for some time on regular flights to and from New Orleans, La., and Gulfport, Miss., but only last week were successful

arrangements made to have the airline service Gulf Central Airport-Stennis Field, Hancock County.

Presently flying Islander aircraft, SCAT is awaiting delivery of two, new Hanley-Page "Jetstream" turboprop

airplanes from England.

The Islander aircraft seats nine passengers and is designed to operate out of smaller fields.

The "Jetstream" will seat 14.

Andrew Peabody, director of sales and marketing, who handled the Stennis Field operation negotiations with the

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, through its director, C.H. Hill, said

Monday that the current SCAT permits connections with at least 70 major line aircraft at

New Orleans Miltant Airport,

Gulfport and Jackson.

Peabody said that under the present schedule the Islander will land at Stennis Field, eastbound to Gulfport, at 8:38

a.m., 3:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Monday through Friday and at 8:38 a.m. and 7:28 p.m. on Saturdays. On the other leg,

Westbound to New Orleans, La., times will be 9:14 a.m., 3:44

p.m. and 7:44 p.m., Monday through Friday and at 9:14 a.m.

on Saturday. There will be no flights in either direction on Sundays.

Regular fares for all flights from Stennis Field are, to New Orleans, $10; to Gulfport, $6;

to Baton Rouge, $14; to Natchez,

$19; to McComb, $15; to Jackson, $22. All fares are plus taxes of one way. Discount fares are available to students, seniors and veterans.

Contracted this morning, PRJC President White said he was especially pleased to hear of the airline's operational expansion into Stennis Field cliting the availability of the service to personnel and students of the new vocational training school to be constructed as the aeronautical facility as its principal reason.

"SCAT is demonstrating its faith in the future of Hancock County by introducing this service. This is much in line with our thinking and adds to the growing feeling of progress and future well being now felt in the county," White said.

"This is the first step in preparation for our Annual

March of Dimes Fund Drive to be held January 2 through January 31."

"We find a real inspiration for next year's campaign," he

from March of Dimes

Headquarters in New York, that new record increases were established both nationally and in our state in March of Dimes contributions this year." This tells us that the public is squarely behind our program to prevent birth defects and to treat those unfortunate children already born with them.

New interest in the March of Dimes program has been generated, he explained, by recent research findings that show a suspected link between birth defects and many by products of the technological age, including industrial wastes, food additives, pesticides, herbicides,

radiation, pharmaceuticals, hallucinogens, and narcotics.

Over 100 Birth Defect Centers at major medical centers and teaching hospitals throughout the nation, including the one at the University Medical Center in Jackson, are supported by March of Dimes funds.

Mr. Cooper states that he would like to call on each citizen in Hancock County to lend a helping hand to Mrs. Tudury and make the 1972 March of Dimes another record increase.

Cancer Society To Reorganize

Cypress District

"On my honor, I will do my best, to do my duty to God and my country; to obey the Scout Law, to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." This is the oath taken by every Boy Scout in Hancock County, which comprises the Cypress District, an Agency of the Hancock County United Fund. It has been the guiding principle in the lives of more than 33,000,000 American boys and countless volunteers in practically every community in America. Each day boys in your community are "doing their best" to live up to the challenges of this oath. Each boy takes this oath when he becomes a part of the Scouting Movement, a movement supported by United Fund Dollars.

Scouting became a part of the American scene in 1910 when the Boy Scouts of America was chartered by Act of Congress. The purpose then and now is to promote the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, citizenship and physical fitness. The dean of Teachers College, Columbia University once said, "I regard the Boy Scout movement as one of the most valuable educational agencies of this generation."

Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring programs are made available to the youth of our nation through cooperating organizations and groups of citizens. Troops are sponsored by religious institutions of all faiths; civic groups; farm organizations and parent-teacher organizations. Any boy who has completed the third grade may become a part of Scouting by joining a Cub Scout Pack. Upon completing the fifth grade a boy may then become a Boy Scout and at age fifteen he may continue as a Boy Scout or become an Explorer. Explorers are special interest groups and use Vocational-Social-Service- Outdoor-Citizenship and Personal Fitness as key areas of learning. Girls too are now welcomed into Explorer Posts and in the New Orleans Area Council are taking an active role.

Boy Scouts in this area belong to Cypress District, New Orleans Area Council. They are served by numerous volunteers and a full-time professional residing in the District. A nominal fee is paid by the boy to the National Council giving him the right to participate in the National Program anywhere in the country. The fee is deliberately kept at a nominal amount so that no boy, by reason of the cost of registration, is denied the privilege of being a Scout. It has always been the policy of the Boy Scouts of America to encourage the boy to earn his own money to pay for his uniform, badges and troop dues, to encourage him in personal thrift and paying his way. The overhead cost of local Council supervision, training and service to units should be met through private subscription and not an expense to the boy.

"Fun" is an important part of Scouting and out-of-doors activities are an important part of that fun. Council owned camping facilities are available at Camp Salmen, Slidell, Louisiana; Camp Gaylord, LaCombe, Louisiana; and the newly acquired 1520 acre Vee Bar Ranch near Nekoase in Hancock County.

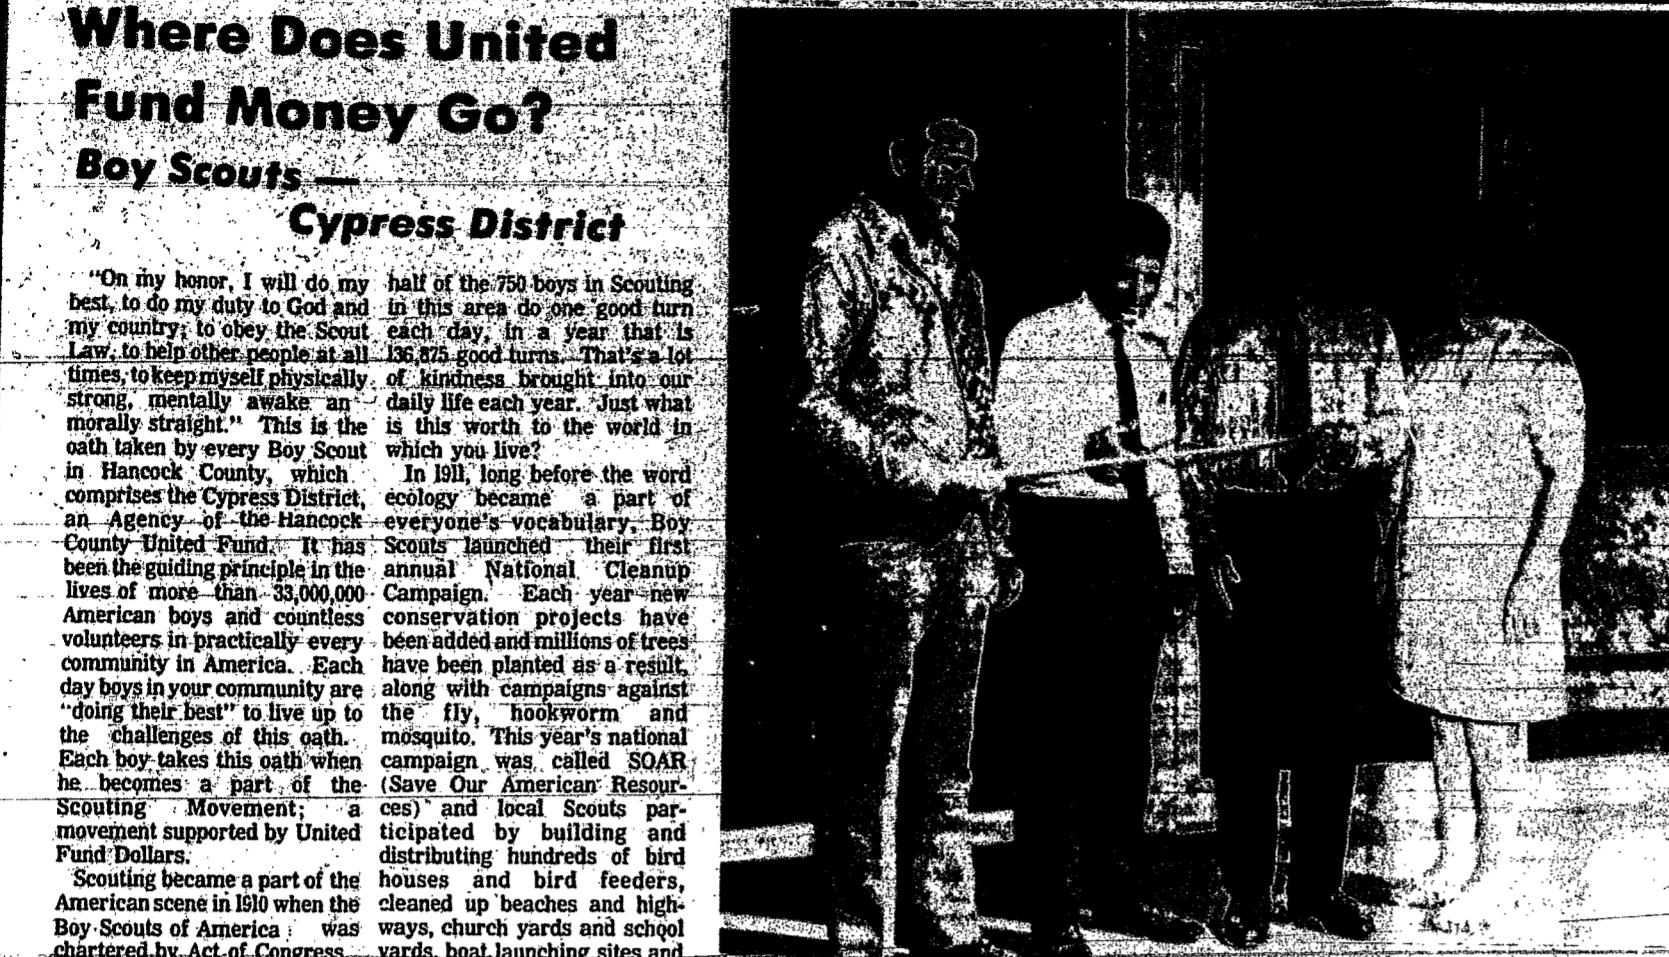

"Tenderfoot" Scout his pin is traditionally worn upside down until he performs his first "good turn." He may then wear his pin right-side up but it is honor bound to "help other people at all times." In keeping with that tradition Scouts in this area, acting individually and as groups, last year, participated in Flag Day ceremonies as active patriots, ushered at Tulane and Sugar Bowl games, distributed posters for United Fund, Cancer Society, National Cystic Fibrosis, National Tuberculosis, etc. Their daily "good turns" go largely unnoticed and unmentioned, but if Forgiveness from sin.

First John 1:9 tells us: "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." Perhaps this verse is old to you, but a careful study of such word will reveal some important truths regarding sin.

Note the word "H". The forgiveness of our sins is conditional, not automatic. It is conditional upon our repentance and confession. The next verse says, "If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar and his word is not in us." Every Christian is confronted with the task of confessing sins daily, for on that condition is the promise of forgiveness immediate.

The death of our sins is not automatic at the time of conversion, but forgiveness of sin is for sin is a condition of the heart that produces these individual sins. To be sure, when one receives the Lord Jesus as his own personal Savior the guilt of his sinful nature is made

PARENTS

The child of God who has been born again by a personal act of faith between himself and the Lord Jesus lives in a state of right relationship with God, and that relationship cannot be broken. However, the Christian also lives in a state of fellowship which can easily be broken. When your children disobey you, they are corrected and do not receive the things they desire. This does not mean that they are no longer your children but rather that they are out of fellowship. The daily confession of our sins to God is not a condition of our relationship with Him, but rather of our fellowship.

To understand this further, it will help to realize that when one is converted he does not become perfect. God does not then and there eradicate the old nature of sin, else we should never sin again. Rather, at the time of conversion God places into our being an entirely new nature, His own nature, and now we possess two natures—the old and the new, the carnal and the spiritual, the flesh and the spirit. Our gaining heaven is not determined by the victory of the struggle of these two natures. But our daily fellowship with God is affected. An old missionary returned to the home of a convert among the Mobe Indians. When the man from whom he was separated from his wife and family had died, he said, "I am still a Christian."

But that from which I was separated instantaneously was the guilt of my sin. I shall never be called into condemnation for it, for in one act of faith I was freed from sin's condemnation when I accepted God's gracious provision of His Son. I am in a state of righteousness before God because I once confessed the fact that I was a sinner by nature and that my heart was out of sin.

David said, "Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me" (Psalm 51:5). He means simply that from the very moment of conception, the principle of sin was present and therefore I too am a sinner in my innermost being. You can see the principle of sin developing in the smallest child. Put a young child in a playpen with other children and before he can walk or talk, he will not only refuse to give his toys away, but will selfishly grab to the toys of his playmates. This child is too young to sin, but the principle of sin, the seed of sin, is alive and flourishing in his being, and he will, one day, commit sins because the seed of sin is alive in him.

Rev. Alvin O'Reilly, St. Edward the Confessor Church, New Orleans, assisted by Rev. Gary Ault, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar with a background of tiered Woodwardia. Woodwardia was used for decorations throughout the church.

A white satin ribbon overlaid with lace appliques studded with seed pearls, with a bow at the back, accented the waistline. The full flowing skirt with pearl-trimmed lace appliques at the hemline, ended in a long train.

Her cathedral length veil of white silk illusion was attached to an Alencon lace Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls and fresh stephanotis blossoms and baby's breath. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, white roses, baby's breath, and ivy. Miss Carol Theresa Villarrubia served as maid of honor. short trains. Avocado robes flowed to the back; they wore garden hats with open crowns encircled with fresh flowers in autumn colors and ivy and carried baskets of matching flowers.

Misses Jeanne Renee Dessimmes, the bride's niece, and Lise Maria Blitch, sister of the groom, served as flower girls. They wore dresses identical to the bridesmaids. Flowers enriched their pony tails, and they carried small baskets of mums, roses and wheat.

Nicholas Stipelcovich served the groom as best man. Ronald Buchanan Blitch, brother of the groom, and Robert Edgar Dessimmes, brother of the bride, and Daniel Joseph Himes were groomsmen. Ushers were Eric Forni, Dessimmes and Charles Auguste Dessimmes, Jr., brother of the bride, and Timothy John Trapolin, groom's cousin.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Gardens of Ahmeek, Blitch's summer home in Abita Springs. Arrangements of Tallisman roses, yellow and white stock, fern and ivy decorated the buffet table.

An arch of smilax with a bow at the back, accented the waistline. The full flowing skirt with near-trimmed lace appliques at the hemline, ended in a long train.

Her cathedral length veil of white silk illusion was attached to an Alencon lace Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls and fresh stephanotis blossoms and baby's breath. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, white roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Miss Carol Theresa Villarrubia served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Deborah Patricia Sprague, Marie Ellise Dessimmes, cousin of the bride, and Courtney Ann Blitch, sister of the groom. Another sister, Miss Lealle Anne Blitch, was junior bridesmaid. They wore floor length dresses styled with bone color pucker gored georgette bodices with stand-up collars adorned with cameos and long full sleeves. The floor length skirts of gathered gored orange georgette over gold taffeta underskirts fell into a train.

By Marileen Maher)

I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of Supervisor District No. 1 as an independent Candidate in the General Election on November 2nd, 1971.

I am a life-long resident of Pearlington, Miss., the son of H.G. Dean, Sr., of Pearlington and Mrs. Patsy Valley of New Orleans, La. I am married to the former Gloria Mitchell of Ellsville, Miss., and the father of one son, H.G. Dean, III. I am a graduate of Bay St. Louis High School and attended the University of Southern Miss. for three years. I am presently employed for Public Finance Co. in Gulfport.

There are several reasons why I have entered as a candidate in the General Election:

1. I am not satisfied with the Democratic Nominee elected in the August Primary.
2. I am believe in the political machine we have in Hancock County. I believe it is wrong for any political faction to elect a slate of candidates.
3. I strongly oppose the tax increase which was recently received by the Board of Supervisors.
4. As a young man I have a big store in the future of our county, and feel that young people should become involved in the affairs of government.

I sincerely solicit the support of all the INDEPENDENT THINKING voters.

VOTE: H.G. DEAN, JR., Supervisor District No. 1, Hancock County.

Local Government In Action

HANCOCK COUNTY
SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT

ED. NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of articles by staff writer Adoree Shortie, explaining the various departments within the three local governments Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County.

The Hancock County sheriff's department, as all similar departments in the state, will shortly undergo a radical organizational change by virtue of recent legislation.

In the past, the sheriff has functioned as tax collector as well as law enforcement agency for the entire county. Added to these were other duties which proved to be more time consuming than remunerative.

Although not really concerned with law enforcement, the job of tax collector under the old law serves as the life blood of the sheriff's department which is supported almost entirely by a percentage of taxes collected. Under the new system, accounting for many more hours of lost duty time, the sheriff is receiving a salary and budget, the amount based on a sliding scale percentage of the tax money. However, according to Fred Curet, the present sheriff, the scale works in reverse as the greater the amount of taxes collected the less commission he receives for the department.

STRUCTURE

An elected official, the sheriff functions technically under the county board of supervisors, but actually operates independently of any governing body, a situation which places tremendous responsibility as well as power in the hands of the man.

Under the new system, effective January, 1972, the sheriff will no longer serve as tax collector, will be paid a specific salary set by the state as will his deputies, and will be concerned strictly with law enforcement.

PERSONNEL

W.A. "Fred" Curet was elected sheriff in 1967, after serving four years as a sheriff's deputy and prior to that, nine years as a highway patrolman. There are six regular deputies who work, rather than on specific shifts, as often as possible and whenever they're needed. Regular deputies are Everett, Exidius, Fairley, Nease, Robert Tartavouille, Emile Plaza (also county coroner), Terry, Holmes and James Norman, who serves primarily as a radio operator in the communications office. R.D. Ladner is assigned full time to the Hancock North Central School area.

Four auxiliary deputies, Leo Woods, Lee Klein, Isadore Givens, and Richard Turner, are equipped with radios and are on 24-hour call.

In addition to Jim Norman, there are four deputized radio operators: M.J. Bills, Jake Ramage, Charles Johns, Edward Filiou, who man the communications system 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Curet also has a force of 25 auxiliary deputies who patrol areas of their own residence on a part-time basis. These men are located in all sections of the county, supplementing the regular force and are on call for assistance at any time. They are paid under a fee system for extra duty time.

A Junior Deputy force of about 30 teenagers supplements the regular personnel at public events such as games, fairs, parades, and school activities. They wear uniforms and are issued badges, patches and designated deputy cards. They attend scheduled meetings and work under the sheriff's supervision.

DUTIES

All deputies, regular and auxiliary, drive marked fully equipped cars and wear badges, patches, uniforms and revolvers.

Deputies salaries fluctuate from month to month, Curet said, but they also receive a percentage fee, fixed by the state, for serving warrants and subpoenas, and transporting prisoners to and from other counties.

Deputies perform multiple duties which include besides crime investigation and arrests, assisting city police departments, escorting funerals, traffic and crowd control at football games, sports events and dances, working with narcotics and alcohol abuse organizations, and the state highway patrol.

The sheriff's department carries most of the weight of highway patrol as at this time there are only two highway patrolmen assigned to Hancock County, each working an eight-hour shift. There is no highway patrolman on duty after midnight, Curet said, so his deputies and city police cover this area of law enforcement as well.

A deputy must appear in court as a witness for every arrest he has been involved in, which can often tie him up for days, seriously restricting his availability for patrol.

Deputies are also called upon more and more frequently to transport juvenile offenders to state training schools and institutions, accounting for many more hours of lost duty time to upcoming sheriffs.

Regarding the nation-wide crime increase he said, "Crime is getting better organized every day and if the police don't get organized as well, we're fighting a losing battle."

The area of greatest concern to the sheriff is the NASA buffer zone, where the majority of crimes in the county are committed, he said. A heavily wooded, isolated section, the buffer zone is laced with lonely roads where a frightening number of crimes has been committed in recent months such as rapings, sex crimes, assaults and beatings, almost all involving narcotics abuse.

A contract between NASA and the board of supervisors for security patrol of the buffer zone will soon expire. Under the contract, the sheriff's department had assigned three deputies to the area for full time security. Supervisors have requested a 90-day extension of the contract but no definite commitment has been reached to date.

Curet is optimistic about restructuring the sheriff's departments under the new legislation and feels that the new system will prove of value to upcoming sheriffs.

Hawks Overwhelm Eagles 65-6

The Hawks of Hancock North Central overwhelmed the Eagles of St. John's last Saturday night at Milner Sat-drum by defeating the Eagles 65-6. Mitchell Havard and Ricky Randall took turns calling signals for the Hawks. Havard passed 17 time, completing 13 passes for 280 yards, while Randall threw 8 times with six completions for 171 yards, giving the Hawks a combined total of 451 yards in the air.

Kenny Seals led the Hawks in receptions; catching the ball 8 times for 200 yards and scoring on four of those receptions. Bruce Staten caught 4 passes for 56 yards and carried the ball 12 times for 87 yards.

The Hawks scored twice in the first half. Bruce Staten ran 40 yards on a reverse for the first touchdown. Dale Lee kicked the extra point. Randall hit Seals for the second touch-down on a 54 yard pass play.

Staten carried the ball over for a successful two point conversion.

and were forced to punt after four downs. The Eagles failed to down the ball and Ricky Randall picked the ball up to run for a touchdown. Staten ran off tackle for the two point conversion.

The Hawks capitalized on the mistakes of St. John's for the remainder of the game, picking up enough momentum to score an amazing 50 points in the second half.

The Hancock defense helped keep the spirit of the game alive by picking off three Eagle passes and recovering two of St. John's fumbles.

The only Eagle score of the game came after a third quarter rally that brought the Eagles inside the Hawk's five. Bernie Herbert made the score on a one yard run. The point after attempt failed.

Staten carried the ball over for a successful two point conversion.

By L. S. (Dee) Elliott

This past weekend really opened the start of the fall season with a 38 degree reading of the temperature. The fish enjoy this cold weather and were hitting. The same goes for squirrels and rabbits. With the season open on both there should be some good hunting from now on. Rabbit and squirrel hunters should be in their prime, not to mention that the duck season will open next month.

Plenty of poule deau with a few ducks were seen most everywhere over the weekend.

Don't think poule deau are not good eating when soaked overnight in vinegar or boiled in crab boil and then cooked.

Bass and speckles were hitting pretty good and some good catches were reported.

Bass are still being caught on surface baits but from now on under water baits will be more effective, except on warm days when they will take surface baits also.

Real hunters are in the woods by daylight when going for Bob and Pauline Gladwell do most of their fishing off a pier in Waveland. Bob admits Pauline is the fishing expert of the two.

She catches anything that bites. Cleans and cooks what she gets.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutledge and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schott went boat riding last week. Tried fishing but had little success. Better luck next time folks.

A. J. Seave is busy fixing up his home. When finished he expects to take up fishing Nothing better, we think. A. J.

There are all kinds waiting to be caught.

Andy Anderson and Ed Fehnhey were over for the weekend. They were working on Andy's boat, getting it ready for some future fishing and hunting trips. Waiting for that trip, fellows.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh and Grace

Collins are down from Virginia visiting their son who has a home on the beach near Waveland. Hugh loves to fish and is enjoying pulling them in. Their son is from New Orleans.

Charles and Ramona Lavinghouse enjoy catching fish, soft and hard crabs and what have you? They get their share of all. Share them with their friends.

J.C. Shubert, Jr., and Johnny Sneller from Lakeshore are fishing and hunting partners. They go on every occasion.

Bobby and Corinne Lander love their dove hunting. They are waiting for the second part of the season to start. Won't be long now folks.

Received the following from a reader of 'Kantcha Ketchum'. Think she is right. Youths should be instructed on how to handle a gun before using one. Unloading a gun before entering a vehicle has always been a must with all hunters as a safety precaution.

Mr. L. S. (Dee) Elliott
"Kantcha Ketchum"

An UNDISCIPLINED youth of 17 years did not unload his gun when all hunters were instructed to do so, causes death of 7 year old boy sleeping in camping trailer. It's too late for him to be sorry. Oh! The suffering of Parents, sisters, Grandmother and relatives.

Caution all hunters to unload before getting in their trucks and cars. Please.

"I would rather be right than President"

HENRY CLAY though aged and ailing, passionately appeals to the North for concession, and to the South for peace, in a speech which dramatically outlined the Compromise of 1850. His address in the Old Senate Chamber lasted almost two days.

A leading American statesman for nearly 40 years, Henry Clay tried to prevent the war between the states. With John Calhoun and Daniel Webster, he was part of "the great Triumvirate" of senators. Their opinions largely controlled congress. Clay was the best loved.

His leading purpose was "the preservation of the union."

Clay gave a speech in which he declared himself against slavery. His friends warned him that this speech would ruin his chances to be president. It was then that he made the famous remark which is often quoted: "I would rather be right than President."

His Compromise of 1850 delayed the war ten years.

There are no exceptions to the highway boundary, for instance, the line on Highway 90 bridges will fall 100 feet to the north. Another exception is Bay St. Louis, where fresh water officially begins at or near the mouth of several bayous and streams entering the bay.

Someone said, "Here's to a little drink each day—you'll live to die some other way."

Was a pleasure meeting J.C. Seal from up in the county. J.C. is now oystering. He used to hunt and fish. Was interesting to hear him tell how he picked up doves for Brother Peter, Bob Gelin, Pete Caruso, and others of us old timers. We hunted on their land. Those were the happy days.

Speckle trout are being caught in Bayou Caddy. They are mostly pan size. Will get larger as the weather gets colder.

Troop 210 Hosts Court Of Honor

On Wednesday, September 22, Waveland's Boy Scout Troop 210 hosted the Bay-Waveland Area Court of Honor held every three months. These ceremonies are held to recognize the advancements achieved by the boys through hard and diligent work.

The ceremony was initiated with the presentation of the colors by Troop 210 and the Invocation by Father Maloney of St. Clare's Church. A short greeting was extended to the parents by Mr. Wesley Dorn, Scoutmaster of 210. Awards were then presented by the participating Scout Troops in numerical order, leaving 210 for last.

Troop 210 honored two former scouts by advancing them to the position of Assistant Scoutmaster, Karl Wilcox of Clemon Harbor and Warren Duffie of Waveland.

Wilcox son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar E. Wilcox, also received the highest achievement in the Scouting program, the Eagle Award. This award represents many years of hard work and the scout's own personal drive to meet the stiff requirements. An honor guard escorted Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox to the front of the room for the presentation of the award to their son.

The following weekend, September 24-26, found the same boys and more from throughout the Cypress District which includes all of Hancock County, Scouts and those from the Slidell Area out at the Vee-Bar Ranch which is the new 1,500 acre Scout Camp in the northern part of Hancock County. This was the first Camporee held at the new Scout Camp and each Scout and Leader that attended received a special commemorative patch. The boys were able to meet and compete in Scouting skills that they had previously learned.

The new Scout Ranch will broaden the scope of learning for many scouts in the years to come and will allow more of an outdoor program for the Scouts throughout this area.

Troop 210 would also like to remind all parents that if they

Waveland Homemakers

The Waveland Homemakers Club held its September 21st meeting at the Abita Springs home of long time member Mrs. B. Duchi. Eight members attended and two guests, Mrs. Linda Harrmann and Miss Dixie Parker. Members arrived early and a delicious luncheon was served before meeting got underway.

Club president, Mrs. Edward LeVasseur, presided and Health chairman, Mrs. E. V. Alme, read bulletin on "Birth Defects". Miss Dixie Parker gave highlights of the September County Council meeting and briefly outlined monthly program entitled "Know Your Labels".

It was the consensus of those present that the club's project for the balance of this year and through next June would be to lend whatever assistance it could towards the "Older American Area-wide Model Program" currently being set up in the county and scheduled to get underway next month.

Mrs. H. Sillier will take to the home for the elderly in Bay St. Louis for September.

The October 19th meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Servat, 229 Marcus St. Waveland.

Our plans for today's electric needs were made years ago on plans to meet the needs of the 80's . . . working to make certain that you and your community will have all the power you need when you need it.

MISSISSIPPI POWER COMPANY
Helping You Live Better Electrically

Making certain that you always have an abundant and dependable supply of electric power . . . around the clock . . . is a top priority task at Mississippi Power Company. We think you have a right to expect the very best electric service that advanced planning, engineering skills, and modern technology can provide. And it's our job to make it happen.

Right now we are in the largest construction program in our history . . . adding new and improved facilities to meet the ever-increasing power needs of our customers. Since the end of World War II we have installed generating equipment capable of producing nearly a million kilowatts of electricity and our present construction program will double that figure in the next five years. And as the demand for electric power increases, more and more generating units will be required.

Right now we're working to meet the needs of the 80's . . . working to make certain that you and your community will have all the power you need when you need it.
